Our Street

On our street there's always someone
Wandering up and down
Or running for the bus
To take them into town

Cars and vans delivering
Parcels large and small
Children talking loudly
On their way to school

There're barking dogs with wagging tails
Tugging on the lead
And cats prowling all around
As if they own the street

Every Monday morning
My neighbour mows the grass
And stops to chat to people
As they go walking past

On Thursday nights the pavement
Is full of coloured bins
Black for general rubbish
And blue for glass and tins

So I never can be really sure
What I'm about to see
As I stare out of my window
And look up and down the street
